

DocWorking THRIVE Circle for Leaders, Mentors and Wellness Coaches

Why You Need DocWorking THRIVE Circle:

As a Leader and/or Wellness Officer, you endeavor to support your colleagues and your whole organization, to build and elevate a Culture of Wellness and Resilience. But carving out time to achieve this can feel nearly impossible considering your numerous other responsibilities.

You have a growth mindset. You understand the value of Coaching, to take you to the next level. You know the potential value you can bring to your organization.

You and your entire care team could benefit if you had the resources at your fingertips to bring the best of who you are to your office, to the colleagues you lead, mentor and coach, to your patients, and into your home, to your family, friends and loved ones.

You may already be a certified coach. Who is coaching you? Could you use a dynamic team of coaches to support you in your work and personal life? To be that extra layer of support when you encounter a coaching dilemma? Is there such a thing as ongoing never ending Coaching for the Coaches?

The Answer is Yes!

We have heard your call, and in DocWorking THRIVE Circle, there is ongoing Small Group Coaching, tools that only take minutes per week to master, and a community of like-minded colleagues from numerous healthcare organizations waiting for you.

We are wired for community. But it can be lonely at the top, right? You are not alone. Studies show that individuals with strong community support are not only happier, they achieve more in life, and bounce back faster after hardships.

Are you striving to create a Culture of Wellness & Resilience at your organization? Get the support you need to make that happen, for yourself, your colleagues, your care team, your patients and your family.
